ASSESSMENT AND REPORT WRITING

Psychological Assessment and Report Writing, Second Edition
Karen Goldfinger and Andrew M. Pomerantz
Pbk | 256pp | 9781452259109 | 7/05/2013
AS$145 | NZ$169 | Sage Publications Inc

Outlining a step-by-step assessment model, Psychological Assessment and Report Writing, Second Edition covers five key topics central to psychological assessment: understanding the context of a referral; determining what data is needed to answer referral questions; gathering the data; integrating the data; and communicating the findings. Authors Karen Goldfinger and Andrew M. Pomerantz review each facet of psychological assessment and report writing, providing how-to instructions and alerting readers to a myriad of issues they must consider when conducting assessments in clinical, forensic, or educational environments.

COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Learning and Memory
Darrell S. Rudman
Pbk | 448pp | 9781483374833 | 21/11/2017
AS$192 | NZ$226 | Sage Publications Inc

Learning and Memory provides a broad survey of topics including the major behaviorism theories of learning, modern cognitive theories of memory, social learning theories, the roles of emotion and motivation in learning, and the neurological underpinnings of these perspectives that have been well-established. A concluding chapter discussing Learning and Memory concepts in the real world exposes students to how these concepts are utilised in various industries such as advertising, education, and the media.

Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition
American Psychological Association
Pbk | 300pp | 9781433805615 | 1/07/2009
AS$76 | NZ$91 | American Psychological Assoc

The revised sixth edition has been thoroughly rethought and re-organised, making it the most user-friendly Publication Manual the APA has ever produced. You will be able to find answers to your questions faster than ever before. Cybercognition: Brain, Behaviour and the Digital World
Lee Hadlington
Pbk | 248pp | 9780691173313 | 1/10/2016
AS$36.99 | NZ$43.99 | Princeton University Press

An unprecedented look at the quest to unravel the mysteries of the human brain, The Future of the Brain takes students to the absolute frontiers of science. Original essays by leading researchers such as Christof Koch and George Church, describe the spectacular technological advances that will enable us to map the more than eighty-five billion neurons in the brain, as well as the challenges that lie ahead in understanding the anticipated deluge of data and the prospects for building working simulations of the human brain.

Using the Rorschach Performance Assessment System® (R-PAS®)
Joni Mihura and Gregory Meyer
Hbk | 416pp | 9781462532537 | 9/11/2017
AS$94 | NZ$108 | Guilford Publications Inc

From co-developers of the Rorschach Performance Assessment System (R-PAS), this essential volume illustrates the utility of R-PAS for addressing a wide range of common referral questions with adults, children, and adolescents. Compelling case examples from respected experts cover clinical issues (such as assessing psychosis, personality disorders, and suicidality); forensic issues (such as insanity and violence risk assessments, child custody proceedings, and domestic violence); and use in neuropsychological, educational, and other settings.
Daniel J Siegel goes beyond the nature and nurture divisions that traditionally have constrained much of our thinking about development, exploring the role of interpersonal relationships in forging key connections in the brain. He presents a groundbreaking new way of thinking about the emergence of the human mind and the process by which each of us becomes a feeling, thinking, remembering individual.

A Short Introduction to Attachment and Attachment Disorder 2ed

Colby Pearce

Pbk | 160pp | 9781785920585 | 1/01/2017

Concise and easy-to-understand, this text provides an introduction to what attachment means and how to recognise attachment disorder in children. Colby Pearce explains how complex problems in childhood may stem from the parent-child relationship during a child’s early formative years, and later from the child’s engagement with the broader social world. The book explores the mind-set of difficult and traumatised children and the motivations behind their complex tendencies and behaviours.

Practical Ethics for Psychologists: A Positive Approach 3ed

Samuel Knapp, Leon Vandecreek and Randy Fingerhut

Pbk | 360pp | 9781433827457 | 15/05/2017
AS$121 | NZ$143 | American Psychological Assoc

Truly ethical behaviour requires more than simply avoiding action by a disciplinary body. For psychologists, behaving ethically is a positive goal that involves striving to reach our highest ethical ideals. Guided by APA’s Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct, Knapp, Vandecreek, and Fingerhut provide short sketches illustrating the standards that psychologists must follow, and show how psychologists can actualise their personal values and ethical acumen in their daily work.

Self-Determination Theory: Basic Psychological Needs in Motivation, Development, and Wellness
Richard Ryan and Edward Deci
Hbk | 766pp | 9781462528769 | 3/02/2017
A$145 | NZ$173 | Guilford Publications Inc

Self-determination theory (SDT) provides a framework for understanding the factors that promote motivation and healthy psychological and behavioural functioning. In this authoritative work, the codewriters of the theory comprehensively examine SDT’s conceptual underpinnings (including its six mini-theories), empirical evidence base, and practical applications across the lifespan. The volume synthesises a vast body of research on how supporting – or thwarting – people’s basic needs for competence, relatedness, and autonomy affects their development and well-being.

Neuroscience: A Historical Introduction
Mitchell Glickstein
Pbk | 418pp | 9780262534611 | 4/08/2017
A$86 | NZ$103 | MIT Press

This introduction to neuroscience is unique in its emphasis on how we know what we know about the structure and function of the nervous system. What are the observations and experiments that have taught us about the brain and spinal cord? The text traces our current neuroscience knowledge to many and varied sources, including ancient observations on the role of the spinal cord in posture and movement, nineteenth-century neuroanatomists’ descriptions of the nature of nerve cells, physicians’ attempts throughout history to correlate the site of a brain injury with its symptoms, and experiments on the brains of invertebrates.

Motivation 101
James Schreiber
Pbk | 230pp | 9780826199027 | 7/12/2016
A$52.99 | NZ$63 | Springer Publishing Co

An entertaining, affordable alternative to lengthy and expensive texts on the subject, Motivation 101 is unique in helping readers understand how each theory of motivation - behavioural, neurobiological, attribution, and other paradigms - views and defines a particular concept within the model. For example, each modality views the concept of “reward” from a different perspective. Tables within each chapter compare and contrast the thinking of different schools in regard to each construct. The book is also unique in its multidisciplinary focus, whereby research is drawn not only from different domains of psychology but also from such disciplines as education and business. The book considers cultural differences in the study of motivation and collaborative environments, and addresses changing research methodologies.
The Human Frontal Lobes: Functions and Disorders 3rd
Bruce Miller and Jeffrey Cummings
Hbk | 646pp | 9781462531837 | 16/10/2017
A$175 | NZ$207 | Guilford Publications Inc
This authoritative work, now thoroughly revised, has given thousands of students a state-of-the-art understanding of the human frontal lobes - the large brain region that plays a critical role in behaviour, cognition, health, and disease. Leading authorities from multiple disciplines address the anatomy and chemistry of the frontal cortex, neuropsychological assessments of capabilities unique to the frontal lobes, the nature of (and possible treatment avenues for) frontotemporal dementia and related conditions, and implications for understanding and treating neuropsychiatric disorders, such as schizophrenia, mania, and depression.

Drugs and the Neuroscience of Behavior: An Introduction to Psychopharmacology 2nd
Adam Prus
Pbk | 632pp | 9781506388941 | 7/03/2017
A$184 | NZ$219 | Sage Publications Inc
In Drugs and the Neuroscience of Behavior: An Introduction to Psychopharmacology Second Edition, Prus offers an introduction to the field of psychopharmacology from the perspective of how drug actions in the brain affect psychological processes. Prus approaches this rapidly advancing field by providing an introduction to major topics in psychopharmacology. In addition to the major drug classes in psychopharmacology, this book addresses newer drugs and recent trends in drug use.

Clinical Handbook of Psychological Disorders: A Step-by-Step Treatment Manual 5ed
David H Barlow
Hbk | 768pp | 9781462513260 | 24/03/2014
A$169 | NZ$203 | Guilford Publications Inc
This clinical reference and widely adopted text is recognised as the premier guide to understanding and treating frequently encountered psychological disorders in adults. Showcasing evidence-based psychotherapy models, the volume addresses the most pressing question asked by students and practitioners - “How do I do it?” Leading authorities present state-of-the-art information on each clinical problem and explain the conceptual and empirical bases of their respective therapeutic approaches. Procedures for assessment, case formulation, treatment planning, and intervention are described in detail.
Journeys to Professional Excellence: Success Stories of Leading Psychology and Counseling Professionals
Frederic Bemak and Robert Conyne
Pbk | 204pp | 9781506337142 | 26/09/2017
A$69 | NZ$83 | Sage Publications Inc

Journeys to Professional Excellence highlights the “professional journeys” of notable psychologists, counsellors, and academics and describes the lessons we might learn from their stories. With guidance from the editors, Frederic P. Bemak and Robert Conyne, this text presents the developmental experience of successful faculty and practitioners, many of whom are experts in their fields, to help students articulate and define relationships between their personal and professional identities.

James Allen
Pbk | 400pp | 9780826132826 | 15/07/2017
A$134 | NZ$159 | Springer Publishing Co

This text provides a comprehensive introduction to the psychology of happiness, with an emphasis on the social and contextual issues that influence well-being. Chapters on topics such as work, money, materialism, leisure, religion, and spirituality explore the social processes that affect happiness in each domain. Each of these explorations is grounded in the latest research evidence.

Mate Choice: The Evolution of Sexual Decision Making from Microbes to Humans
Gil Rosenthal
Hbk | 648pp | 9780691150673 | 26/05/2017
A$109 | NZ$131 | Princeton University Press

The popular consensus on mate choice has long been that females select mates likely to pass good genes to offspring. In Mate Choice, Gil Rosenthal overturns much of this conventional wisdom. Providing the first synthesis of the topic in more than three decades, and drawing from a wide range of fields, including animal behaviour, evolutionary biology, social psychology, neuroscience, and economics, Rosenthal argues that “good genes” play a relatively minor role in shaping mate choice decisions and demonstrates how mate choice is influenced by genetic factors, environmental effects, and social interactions.

Handbook of Mindfulness: Theory, Research, and Practice
Kirk Warren Brown, J David Creswell and Richard Ryan
Pbk | 466pp | 9781462525935 | 1/12/2015
A$88 | NZ$105 | Guilford Publications Inc

An authoritative handbook, this volume offers both a comprehensive review of the current science of mindfulness and a guide to its ongoing evolution. Leading scholars explore mindfulness in the context of contemporary psychological theories of attention, perceptual processing, motivation, and behaviour, as well as within a rich cross-disciplinary dialogue with the contemplative traditions. It delves into applications of mindfulness practice in healthy and clinical populations, reviewing a growing evidence base.

The Meaning of Madness 2ed
Neel Burton
Hbk | 220pp | 9780992912734 | 1/10/2015
A$37.99 | NZ$44.99 | Scion Publishing Ltd

This book aims to open up the debate on mental disorders, to get people interested and talking, and to get them thinking. For example, what is schizophrenia? Why is it so common? Why does it affect human beings but not other animals? What might this tell us about our mind and body, language and creativity, music and religion? What are the boundaries between mental disorder and ‘normality’? Is there a relationship between mental disorder and genius? These are some of the difficult but important questions that this book confronts, with the overarching aim of exploring what mental disorders can teach us about human nature and the human condition.

Critical Thinking About Research: Psychology and Related Fields 2ed
Harris Cooper and Julian Meltzoff
Pbk | 541pp | 9781433827105 | 18/09/2017
A$108 | NZ$129 | American Psychological Assoc

To become informed consumers of research, students need to thoughtfully evaluate the research they read rather than accept it without question. This second edition of a classic text gives students what they need to apply critical reasoning when reading behavioral science research. It updates the original text with recent developments in research methods, including a new chapter on meta-analyses.
Handbook of Arts-Based Research
Patricia Leavy
Hbk  |  722pp  |  9781462521951  |  4/09/2017
A$144  |  NZ$172 | Guilford Publications Inc
Bringing together interdisciplinary leaders in methodology and arts-based research (ABR), this comprehensive handbook explores the synergies between artistic and research practices and addresses issues in designing, implementing, evaluating, and publishing ABR studies. Coverage includes the full range of ABR genres, including those based in literature (such as narrative and poetic inquiry); performance (music, dance, play building); visual arts (drawing and painting, collage, installation art, comics); and audiovisual and multi-methods approaches.

Designing and Proposing Your Research Project
Jennifer Urban and Bradley van Eeden-Moorefield
Pbk  |  139pp  |  9781433827082  |  14/08/2017
A$61  |  NZ$72 | American Psychological Assoc
Designing your own study and writing your research proposal takes time, often more so than conducting the study. This practical, accessible guide walks you through the entire process. You will learn to identify and narrow your research topic, develop your research question, design your study, and choose appropriate sampling and measurement strategies. The figures, tables, and exhibits offer a wealth of relatable examples and tools to apply concepts, including activities and worksheets to practice alone or in groups with other students.

Writing Your Psychology Research Paper
Scott Baldwin
Pbk  |  126pp  |  9781433827075  |  14/08/2017
A$59.99  |  NZ$71 | American Psychological Assoc
Many psychology students dislike writing a research paper, their aversion driven by anxiety over various aspects of the process. This primer for undergraduates explains how to write a clear, compelling, well-organised research paper. From picking a promising topic, to finding and digesting the pertinent literature, to developing a thesis, to outlining and presenting ideas, to editing for clarity and concision - each step is broken down and illustrated with examples.

Toward a More Perfect Psychology: Improving Trust, Accuracy, and Transparency in Research
Matthew Makel and Jonathan Plucker
Pbk  |  323pp  |  9781433827549 |  15/05/2017
A$101  |  NZ$119 | American Psychological Assoc
At its foundational level, the heart of science is that its methods allow for others to believe its results. This foundation is served by trust, accuracy, and transparency. Unfortunately, current research practices in psychology are known to produce inaccurate, irreproducible, and imprecise results. This text introduces a plethora of strategies to help strengthen the field by improving research quality. Readers will learn how research methods are evolving and how to maximize the quality and impact of their own work.
The Research Journey: Introduction to Inquiry
Sharon F Rallis and Gretchen B Rossman
Pbk | 190pp | 9781462505052 | 2/05/2012
AS65 | NZS77 | Guilford Publications Inc

Designed to foster ‘inquiry-mindedness’, this text prepares students to develop a conceptual framework and conduct inquiry projects that are linked to ongoing conversations in a field. The authors examine different ways of knowing and show how to identify a research question, build arguments and support them with evidence, make informed design decisions, engage in reflective and ethical practices, and produce a written proposal or report.

Pbk | 368pp | 9781412965040 | 15/08/2017
AS139 | NZS165 | Sage Publications Inc

Social Psychology takes a sociological approach to the study of the individual in relationship to society. Its main purpose is to highlight how social psychology provides varied, yet inter-related, explanations for individuals’ experiences in groups. The text tells the story of how these dynamics unfold, beginning with the central social characteristics of the individual, to processes of perception and of interaction. In the telling of this story, it also notes some of the interesting cross-cultural comparisons in regard to these dynamics.
